PERSONAL.—Junius H. Brown, Esq., has resigned his position as city editor of the Enquirer. SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN A LUMBER-YARD .-

FATAL ACCIDENT-DEATH CAUSED BY INJURY BECEIVED FROM A NEEDLE.—One of those singular circumstances which have ever the tendency to beset and increase a belief in the doctrine of fatalism, occurred a few days ago on Western-row. A semmstress, named Margaret Dickson, residing on the thoroughfare we have named, near David street, one day last week accidentally thrust a needle into the hollow of her left hand. The pain at the instant was quite severe, but she thought nothing of it, and as it did not bleed she continued her work until Friday last, although the wound continued to give her some trouble.
On the morning of Friday the pain became almost unbearable, and, after suffering until Saturday morning, she died. The case entirely saffled the skill of her physician, and is almost without a parallel. A pin point, it has often been said, may cause death, and this circumtance would seem to substantia the assertion.

The Late Kidnapping Affair—Examination of the implicated Parties.

Michael Weaver and William Stewart, the parties implicated in the late kidnapping affair, were, yesterday morning, before the Police Court. These men, it will be remembered, were arrested on Wednesday last, having been previously accused of unlawfully returning a negro boy to Kentucky. The case, as it was developed before the Police Court yesterday morning, was simply as follows: One night, a short time ago, Stewart happened to be on John-street, near Clark, when a negro boy, with a carpet-sack in his hand, approached and asked him if there was not a depot in the neighborhood. He directed him to the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Rail-road Depot, and the negro left, but returned a moment after, and wished to know whether there was not another in that direction, pointing to the East. To this he also received an ing to the East. To this he also received an affirmative reply, with the statement that the speaker.—Stewart—was going right to it, and that they might accompany each other.

On the way the boy gave his name as Samuel Wagner, and said he had run away from his master, Jacob Wagner, who resided in Tarwell County, Kentucky, and that he wanted to take the train to Canada. Upon reaching the Little Miami Denot. Stewart told wanted to take the train to Canada. Upon reaching the Little Miami Depot, Stewart told the boy that no train would leave that night, and requested him to go to his home in the Seventeenth Ward, promising that he might sleep there until morning. This the boy agreed to do, and, and after reaching the place, threw himself upon a comfort which Stewart gave him and seemed quite contented.

Stewart then went across to Jamestown, Kentucky, and, accompanied by Weaver, recrossed to the Seventeenth Ward, and awoke the negro. At this time-about one o'clock in the morning—the boy, according to the state-ment of the defendants, had concluded to go to his master, and wished to be directed to Kentucky. The parties then took the fugitive, put him in a skiff, as they say, at his own request, and went to Jamestown, where they confined him in Weaver's cellar, from which he was taken to the Newport Jail, where he still lies.

Judge Lowe heard the testimony attentively, and reviewed it carefully. There seemed to be no doubt in regard to the fact that the boy had been carried over the river by the defendants, which was the main point in the case. It required a process of law to do this without the consent of the negro, and they having no such authority, were guilty under the second section of the statute referring to cases of this kind. According to a certain decision of the Su-oreme Court a certain man had been justified in this act; but he happened to be the owner of the slave, and it was thought this ruling might also apply to the agent of the master; but no such defense had been set up in this case. Under all the circumstances, therefore, he would hold the defendants in the sum of $2,000 each for their appearance to answer the charge at the next term of the Court of Common Pleas.

SUCCESSFUL CONFIDENCE SWINDLE-ANOTHER STRANGER TAKEN IN.—The worst thing that can happen to some men is to find themselves in a strange place. There are persons who should never leave their homesteads, and yet they are the very ones to first fly from them. We hear of such every day, and are surprised each time; for, although, aware that stupidity is indigenous to every[soil, we have heretofore we confess, been somewhat mistaken in regard to the extent of the crop.

A bucolic Kentuckian, at the Burnet House, on Saturday afternoon, was swindled out of $118, in the following manner: Some persons who were conversing near him upon business mat-ters, asked him to change a $500 bill for them. This he could not do, but offered to lend them what he had-the amount we have nameduntil one of them went to his room, promising to return in a few minutes, which promise, of

After waiting some time for their return, our Kentuckian concluded he had been taken in, and then, foolish enough, he told the world of his stupidity. He has learned, he says, that cities are wicked places, and affirms, so great is his chagrin, that he will never again leave the blue-grass fields of his native State.

NEW BOOKS. -- We have received from Rickey Mallory & Co., Main-street, "The Corner Cupboard, or Facts for Everybody," by the author of that popular work, "Inquire Within." It embraces facts about things that are not generally known, things that ought to be generally known, things that ought to be known, and things worth knowing, illustrated by over a thousand engravings. It is a complete encyclopedia of useful knowledge, and should have a place in every family library. AMUSEMENTS.

Wood's THEATER. -- Wood's Theater was craumed with an enthusiastic and discriminating audiones last night, to witness Mr. James R. Anderson's rondering of the character of "theies." in THE ELDES BROTTER. It was a closed and beautiful transcription and the services of the character of the character. THE ELDRE BROTTER. It was a chaste and beautiful impersonation, and was characterised by all that gentleman's excellencies, and but to wof his faults. As a representative of character, any taking he undertakes is admirably done, and in every part in his reportoirs he has "won golden opinions from all sorts of people."

To night he will appear as "the pale and pensive Prince of Elsinors," and will represent this intellectual incarnation in his own peculiar and excellent style. As his stay is limited to one week, we expect his Hamley to-night to fill the house to repletion.

PIRE'S OPERA-HOUSE.—NORMA, a favorite opera with all persons who are fond of delicious meledies and delicate instrumentation, was rendered last night in excellent style, to a very brilliant audience. Paredi sang the part of "Adalysis," and we suggest that when she next sings it, the opera be called by that name; for with her in it, this part became the principal one. The fact that the at all consented to sing in a secondary character, is good evidence that her heart is as great as her ability, and both seem boundless.

Alaimo sang the part of "Norma" in good style, and with excellent taste, and masters it admirably Sbriglis asing with more spirit than we ever heart him before, while the performance, as a whole, was a complete success. The principal performers were called before the curtain at the end of each act, and throughout they were rapturently and velsemently applanded.

To night, they will sing to our Covington neighbors a very brilliant and cacefully selected programme. The beauty and fashion of our sister cities will doubtless assemble at the Odd-Follows' Hall, and we are sure the sweet voice of Parodi will must their dark even more bright. The house will be crowded PIKE'S OPERA-HOUSE .- NORMA, a favorite PERSONAL.—We saw Mr. J. B. Roberts, the excellent tragediau, in the city yesterday, and infer rom this that we will soon befavored with a sight of "Mephistophiles." He looks quite well and will undoubtedly meet with such a reception as his merit would seem to demand.

Wann.—An Amateur Concert will be held this even-ing, in the Seventeenth Ward, at Christian Chapel, as will be seen by our advertising columns. The object is good and the music will be worth hearing. For this reason let it be well attended.

[Communicated.]

To the Editors of the Penny Press: Mr. Edward Woodman, formerly of Albany, New York, but of late years a citizen of this city, died suddenly at Columbus, Ohio, on the 21st inst. He had been a conductor on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad, and possessed a large circle of friends in Cincinnati. About fifteen months since Mr. Woodman started for Arizona with the train of the Santa Rita Silver Mining Company. He shared cheerfully in all the fatigues and dangers of the journey across the plains. We were to-gether in the same "mess" for many months, not only on the road, but after we arrived in Arizons, and I knew him well. He was a kind-hearted, frank, honorable man, of great intelligence and sterling worth. We came home together on the overland mail, and he hurried away to visit his friends in the East. But, after undergoing the hardships and perils of his journey, and a long exile from kindred and friends, he has met his death almost on the threshold of home! We had seen many hard times and many good times together, and I could not forbear a few words to his memory. His decease took place at the house of his friend, Mr. R. E. Champion.

Respectfully, INTERESTING TO STREET RAILBOAD COMfied the different street railroad companies that they would be required to make their assessment forthwith, or that legal steps would be taken to compel them to do so. The law, we believe, requires that such return should be forthcoming and the taxes upon them paid within thirty days after the organization of within thirty days after the organization of the company—a restriction which, so far as we are aware, has not been complied with as yet in any instance. The circumstance has already created some talk, and may, probably, cause trouble.

COUNTERPEITER ARRESTED .- Officers Hatley and Bleaks arrested a counterfaiter named Golden, yesterday morning, near the Pearl-street Station-house, in which place he was subsequently confined. $40 on the Hatley Falls, Massachusetts, Bank; $6 on the Mechanics Bank, of the same State; $17 in gold, and some silver change, all spurious, were found on his person. The police had been watching him for some time, and at length succeeded in arresting him under such circumstances as leave no doubt as to his guilt.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS. The Commissioners, at their session yesterday morning, passed sundry orders amounting in the aggregate to $965-39. They also passed a resolution authorizing the Auditor to employ a competent person to act as clerk for the City Board of Equalization at a salary not to exceed $50 per month.

George King, one of the chain-gang convicts, was discharged and sent to the Commercial Hospital in consequence of illness. Apart from this no business of importance was transacted.

Police Court.-Judge Lowe, yesterday norning, examined thirty-seven cases. The Monday morning's business at the Police Court is unusually heavy, but seldom con-tains anything of any special interest. The charges and persons disposed of yesterday were not of a class to excite any curiosity; but those cases which see and to be worthy o notice are related elsewhere.

CASE OF HIGHWAY ROBBERY DISPOSED OF .-A paragraph in our issue of yesterday stated that Martin Richardson had been arrested upon a charge of having robbed a slightly in-christed physician with whom he was riding to the city from the races on Friday last The case was called yesterday morning at the Police Court; but as the physician would not appear the prisoner was dismissed.

THE UNIFORM OF THE POLICE. - Mayor Bishop yesterday gave directions to the Chief of Police, Capt. Wilson, requiring the mem-bers of the force under his charge to provide themselves with overcoats of uniform style and color. The new coat will be made in freely style, with caps, and will doubtless present quite a neat appearance.

The Investigating Committee of Council met last night and got through with the examine of three witnesses. Another meeting will be held to-night, when it is expected that those who have been subpensed to hand to make "startling developments."

RATHER Too STRONG .- The strength of the remarks of Mr. Strong, which created so much sensation in political circles a short time ago, caused him in all probability to lose his situation upon the police force. He was discharged yesterday by Mayor Bishop, and James C. Franklin was appointed in his stead.

APPOINTMENT.—Joseph Hahn was yesterday appointed to the police force in the Twelfth Ward wice Sayber, who a short time ago resigned. The appointment is said to be a good one, and the appointee, it is thought by those who know him best, will make an excellent officer.

Jos Work .- Business men will find it to their advantage to bring their job work, of every description, to the Panny Panss office. Our terms are reasonable and satisfactory. We are prepared to execute ball tickets, circulars and programmes in a superior style. Give us a call. A RELIC .- A lady, now on a visit to this city, COVINGTON NEWS.

CONFIDENCE GAME-AN EX-MEMBER OF THE KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE DON'T TAKE THE PA-PERS -A verdant ex-member of the Kentucky Legistature, from the neighboring county of Pendleton, named William Brand, was yesterday wending his way along Scott-street, when he was accosted by a good-lock-ing, well-dressed man, who told him that they had met once in Lexington. Mr. Brand protested that he could remember nothing about it, but upon the stranger insisting, the parties became familiar. He stated to Mr. B. that he had made a purchase of iron at the rolling mill. Just at this moment a person came up who represented himself a clerk in the rolling mill, and presented a bill for $72 to the stranger, who took out a hundred dollar note, which the "clerk" was unable to change. Mr. B. was then asked by the stranger to loan him the amount, which he did, giving him a due-bill, which he promised to redeem as soon as he could get the change. He left Mr. B., who waited for some time for his return, but waited in vain-At length a streak of light dawned upon the obtuse intellect of the ex-legislator, and he realized the fact that he had been victimized. We understand be immediately subscribed for a newspaper.

LIVE STOCK MARKET .- Cattle are more brisk this week than for some months previous, and have still an upward tendency. Common are have still an upward tendency. Common are worth from 2% to 3c., and good bring 4c. The demand is good, no doubt occasioned by the demand is good, no doubt occasioned by the evol weather, which favored packers, but should the present warm spell continue, it will, no doubt, have a tendency to check the demand temporarily. The heavy drain of fat eattle, which the Blue-grass region experienced during the last spring and early part of the summer, will, no doubt, materially enhance prices during the coming winter. Sheep are worth from 3 to 3 ½c., and hogs 5c.

Police Count -Benjamin Brockshaw was yesterday fined $4 50 and costs for playing at football, in Willow Bottem, on Sunday last. Our boys and young men must remember that we have a city ordinance requiring them to observe proper decorum on the Sabbath, and in one instance, at least, it has been enforced. John Flavin, for breach of the peace, was fined $10. Offenders must remember that the Mayor shows them no mercy. In this, we thick, the citizens generally suspect he is about right. Our Police regulations can only be sustained by certain and rigorous punish-

HIT IT THAT TIME .- A letter came to the Postoffice yesterday, directed to the "Most Honest Man in Covington." It might be supposed that our officers would be in a quandary as to the proper person to whom to deliver it, but such was not the case; without hesitation they put it in our box, believing us to fully answer the description.

Why is Ir?-The records of our County Clerk shows a material falling off in hymeneal matters for the past two or three weeks. During the last week, only four marriage licenses were issued, and that, too, when all who are weather-wise, predict that the coming winter will be one of extreme cold. If any of you young men freeze to death this winter, don't blame any but yourselves.

NEWPORT NEWS.

A FEW WORDS TO OUR CITY COUNCIL. - Were we the only sufferers from one of our city ordinances we should not complain; but we are only one of several who are made victims of what we must deem the consummate folly of our City Council. The ordinance of which we complain is the one which prohibits the sale of ardent spirits on Sunday. We do not mean-no friends, do not harbor such a suspicion-that we wish to get on a regular "tare" on Sunday; far from it. Against this inconvenience, or rather privation, we leave our cotemporaries of the quill to protest; but the great difficulty is, it at once prevents rows, fights and fast driving, and, of course, places our city far behind its neighbors, and the re suit is, when Monday comes round-Monday that in most places brings with it a busy ses sion in the Police Court; Monday leaves Mayor without a fee and the locals without an

Do we wish to take our stand among the "fast towns?" None in this age but ardently desire Newport to stand first among cities, and the only way to accomplish this is to get up sensation murders, sensation riots, or some thing else of the character. How is this to be done? Open the coffee houses-men have nothing to do but drink on that day—they will imbibe, get glorious, fight, stab and shoot. Considering the privations we were compelled to undergo yesterday, in tramping the whole city over for "nary item," and considering our Marshals and Mayor were left without a fee, we do beseech the Council to at once repeal the odious ordinance to which we refer. And, further, if our humble petition is not heeded, look out for us to come down with our wrath.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The approaching winter is not without its effects upon our citizens. The dread of muddy streets has induced our City Council to take measures for the improvement of our eidewalks on several of the principal streets of the city. By their order, advertisestreets of the city. By their order, advertise ments were yesterday posted up in different places for the following improvements: For the paving of all the unpaved sidewalks on Bellvue, from York to the Licking River; on York-street, between Jefferson and Mayo; on Madison-street, between East-row and the Licking. The bids are to be opened on next Thursday evening.

Mer A meeting of the President and Direc tors of the Alexandria Tumpike Company will take place at Persimmon Grove, on the 6th day of November. It is desirable that all the stockholders should be present.

Captains Air, Hopper and party, who have been some days at Berlin, Ohio, chasing the deer, sent home one of their species year-terday. It will be quite a luxury here.

A man named John Godeman was arraigned A man named John Codeman was arraigned before Justice Bell, yesterday, and held to bail in the sum of $500 to answer the charge of malicious shooting, before the same Court on Wednesday next. It appears that a man named Frederick Houseman had leased some premises from Gudeman, and that some of the provisions of the lease had not been complied with, which fact had caused considerable ill-feeling between the parties. This has been in existence for some time past, and on Saturday last they met near their residences, in Colerain Township, and had some difficulty, during which Houseman was shot in the arm, and this circumstance gave rise

AN OLD LABCENT CASE RESURBECTED .- A roman named Margaret Foley was before the Police Court, a few days ago, charged with petty larceny, but the prosecuting witness did not appear, and she was discharged. The case will be reopened and heard, we believe, some time to-day, at the court of Justice McFall, when, we presume, the matter will be finally settled. It is said that she stole $30 from a man named Biley while he was aclose in her man named Riley, while he was asleop in her house; but she says the money was not stolen, but that she found it in the bed in which Riley and her husband had slept off a fit of drunken ness the night before. She paid some bills with a part of it, and when accused of the $12, and promised to pay that which she had used at the first opportunity. Riley, however,

Quite a serious secident occurred yesterday morning, in a lumber-yard in the Seventeenth Ward. A large number of boards, which some men had rather carefully piled in one of the wagen-paths in the yard, fell and broke the leg and arm of a man named George Trunic, and crushed almost to death snother named Andrew Easton. It is said that the latter cannot survive, as several his ribs were broken, one of which entered his lungs and causing such internal injuries as will render it impossible for him to recover. He resides, we believe, a short distance above the Little Miami Railroad Depot, and has a wife and several children who are entirely dependent upon his exertions for their support. The ac-cident will thus be quite as disastrous to their comfort as to his life.
